Referral – FAQs

How does it work and who is eligible for the credits?

Any current RCS family with students in the K-12 program can refer a new K-12 student. If the new student enrolls in RCS and attends classes for three consecutive months, the referring family will receive a $500 tuition credit. A current RCS family who refers a new preschool student to our program, and the new students attends for three consecutive months, the referring family will receive a $150 tuition credit.

Who is eligible to be referred?

Children from families who are not currently attending RCS are eligible to be referred.

How will the credit be applied?

This is a one-time award for the current family per academic year. This award will be applied directly to the tuition account.

How many students can I refer?

While a family can refer as many students as possible, the tuition credit is limited to $500 per year.

To qualify for the $500 or $150 referral credit, the student referral form must be turned in with new student online application confirmation (K-12) or enrollment paperwork (preschool). If multiple referral forms are received, the first one received at time of new student application will receive the credit.
